NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS!
NGĀ MIHI O TE TAU HOU!

I have been reminded this week that conversation is core to our humanness. We begin to communicate from the moment we take our first breath. Our newborn cries and facial expressions and the response we get from those around us evolve into words and signs that allow others to know what we need.

We go out into the world and interact with others who are different to us. We come home in tears or in sorrow at the cruelty and unfairness of others. "We're told that sticks and stones may break my bones, but words will never hurt me." Very quickly we learn that this adage is not true. Words do hurt, do cause harm, do injure our hearts in significant ways.

Yet we cannot survive without community, and conversation is at the heart of those relationships. When our conversations become polarized, like so many of them are in our world today, our communities are shaken, and our fragile relationships are endangered. It seems we are moving away from, rather than toward each other and God. As Dorotheus of Gaza one of the sixth century Desert Fathers and Mothers said, as we move closer to God, we move closer to each other.

Our thoughts, our words, our conversations are filled with blaming and gossip rather than understanding, with hatred and fear rather than trust and love.

Perhaps the time has come as this New Year gets underway to renew our commitment to the art of conversation. To learn again to listen to another's story. To sit in the company of one another, honouring the space between us, recognizing the beloved in each person, whether we agree or disagree.

Sit down with God for a cuppa, and share the prayers of your heart, the tears of your brokenness. Sit with a friend or an enemy for a cuppa and listen to their words and the silence between the words. As we grow closer to God, we move toward each other. As we grow closer to each other, we move closer to God. May it be so.

With every blessing,
ANNE MILLS DEAN

PALM CROSSES

Please return your palm crosses from previous years to the bowl under the Nave bell by Sunday 2 March. They will be burnt to form the ash for Ash Wednesday.

EUCCHARIST WITH HYMNS AND IMPOSITION OF ASHES

Bishop Selwyn Chapel

ECUMENICAL ASH WEDNESDAY SERVICE

7:30pm Wednesday 5 March
Holy Trinity Cathedral

Holy Trinity Cathedral and the Roman Catholic Cathedral of St Patrick and St Joseph traditionally observe Ash Wednesday together in an ecumenical service. Join us at this special service, this year held at Holy Trinity Cathedral, as our communities come together to begin the season of Lent.

CHORAL EVENSONG ON INTERNATIONAL
WOMEN'S DAY
5pm Sunday 9 March
Holy Trinity Cathedral

Join us for a special service of Choral Evensong celebrating New Zealand's pioneering women on International Women's Day. Through inspiring music, prayers, and reflections, we will honor the courage, faith, and contributions of the women who have shaped and continue to shape our nation. This uplifting service is an opportunity to give thanks for their legacy and to reflect on the continuing journey toward equality and justice. All are welcome to share in this celebration of resilience and hope.
